Memorandum

To: Institutions Participating in the Child and Adult Care Food Program

From: Arnette Cowan, Head
Special Nutrition Programs

Subject: Transition Period for the Updated Child and Adult Care Food Program Meal Patterns and the Updated National School Lunch Program and School Breakfast Program Infant and Preschool Meal Patterns

This memorandum outlines a transition period for the updated Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP) meal patterns. In recognition of the challenges associated with conforming to the updated requirements, the transition period outlined in this guidance will allow CACFP institutions and facilities to adjust to the updated requirements in the first year of implementation without having fiscal actions imposed or being found seriously deficient.

Background

On April 25, 2016, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) published the final rule "Child and Adult Care Food Program: Meal Pattern Revisions Related to the Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act of 2010" (81 FR 24348) to, in part, update the CACFP meal pattern requirements in 7 CFR 226.20. Institutions and facilities must comply with these updated meal pattern requirements no later than October 1, 2017.

Transition Period

Implementing the updated CACFP meal patterns will greatly benefit participating infants, children, and adults. The updated meal patterns will help serve as a foundation for protecting the health of young children and improving the wellness of older adults.

FNS recognizes implementation of the updated requirements will be a significant change for many Institutions and facilities. FNS is committed to helping State agencies learn and understand the updated meal patterns and to ensure they are able to train their Institutions and facilities to be fully equipped to comply with the updated requirements as soon as possible. Based on FNS' experience during the past year with early implementation of the updated meal patterns by some program operators (CACFP 14-2016 "Early Implementation of the Updated Child and Adult Care Food Program Meal Pattern Requirements and the National School Lunch and School Breakfast Programs' Infant and Preschool Meal Patterns" (http://www.fns.usda.gov/sites/default/files/cn/SP42_CACFP14_2016os.pdf), FNS anticipates that most issues of non-compliance will result from Institutions and facilities' efforts to adhere to the updated requirements. Therefore, FNS concluded that the most appropriate initial remedy to non-compliance is technical assistance and training.

Accordingly, similar to when the School Meal Programs' updated K through 12 meal patterns were first implemented in 2012, FNS is providing a transition period for Institutions and facilities implementing the updated CACFP meal patterns. The transition period will allow an opportunity to focus on providing technical assistance to Institutions and facilities related to the updated meal patterns. Therefore, during Fiscal Year 2018 (October 1, 2017- September 30, 2018), State agencies and sponsoring organizations must provide technical assistance in lieu of fiscal action when they observe violations related to the updated meal pattern requirements. As long as Institutions and facilities are making a good faith effort to comply with the updated requirements, meals cannot be disallowed and CNP operators cannot be found seriously deficient when meals fall short of the updated CACFP meal pattern requirements during this transition period. State agencies and sponsoring organizations should work with Institutions and facilities who are not meeting the updated meal pattern requirements to identify actions necessary in order to do so.

As currently required, State agencies and sponsoring organizations must continue to take immediate fiscal action if a meal is completely missing one or more of the required food components (see 7 CFR 226.2, definition of "meal"). FNS will closely monitor any challenges related to the implementation of the updated CACFP meal patterns. FNS strongly encourages State agencies and Institutions and facilities to provide feedback on implementation of the updated meal patterns. FNS will assess this information to determine if additional guidance is needed.

Recordkeeping

As always, Institutions and facilities must demonstrate they are serving meals that meet the meal pattern requirements. The types of recordkeeping documents, such as production records, required to demonstrate compliance with the meal patterns are at the discretion of State agencies. However, FNS emphasizes that, to the extent practicable, State agencies should not impose additional paperwork requirements to ensure compliance with the updated CACFP meal patterns. To the degree possible, State agencies should maintain their current recordkeeping requirements or update existing forms to avoid any additional burden. The technical assistance provided during the transition period should include how to demonstrate compliance with the updated meal pattern requirements.

Ongoing Technical Assistance

FNS will continue to provide ample technical assistance to Institutions and facilities to ensure successful implementation of the updated meal pattern requirements. Specifically, FNS will publish pertinent resources and guidance materials, such as menu planning tools and tip sheets, for State agencies and Institutions and facilities. Technical assistance resources can be found on the CACFP

(<https://www.fns.usda.gov/cacfp/meals-and-snacks>) and Team Nutrition (<http://TeamNutrition.usda.gov>) Web sites. In addition, FNS and the Institute of Child Nutrition (ICN) will continue to offer the CACFP Meal Pattern Requirements Training to State agencies and sponsoring organizations to help participants become familiar with the updated meal pattern requirements. The training can be requested through the ICN at <http://theicn.org/Templates/TemplateDefault.aspx?qs=cELEPTU3>.

FNS expects State agencies to work closely with their Institutions and facilities and provide technical assistance on an ongoing basis to support CNP operators during this important time of transition. FNS applauds the efforts of Institutions and facilities to achieve and maintain compliance with the updated meal pattern requirements, including those who are already partially or fully implementing the updated requirements.
