

SERVICE PROVIDERS AND OTHER REFERRALS IN HUMAN TRAFFICKING CASES BY COUNTY

Instructions: This resource list may be used by county departments of social services to provide information and referrals to persons who make reports of child abuse, neglect, and dependency that involve allegations of human trafficking. It may also be provided to families or individuals that may need services as a result of their experiences with human trafficking or other forms of interpersonal violence.

This list of providers is not intended to be an exhaustive list of resources available for persons making a report of abuse, neglect or dependency related to human trafficking or child welfare workers assessing allegations of human trafficking. In addition, this compilation of resources does not constitute NC DHHS's endorsement of these organizations or the services they provide, but rather is intended to be an informational resource of providers who may be able to assist those involved with alleged human trafficking.
