Military Appreciation Month is a time when the nation comes together to honor and pay tribute to the brave men and women who have served in the various branches of the military. The month-long celebration is an opportunity to recognize the sacrifices made by military personnel, veterans, and their families. North Carolina's military history has played an integral role in the development of our state, as well as our nation, and it is our duty to honor all Americans who have given their lives in military service.

For Military Appreciation Month, the NCDHHS Division of Mental Health, Developmental Disabilities, and Substance Abuse Services will host a webinar to honor those who served, those who sacrificed, those left behind, and those who carry on. North Carolina recognizes the importance of honoring the relations with veterans and military personnel, and we are committed to building on the strengths and resiliencies of veterans, military members, their families, and the community to achieve improved health, wellness, and quality of life.
