

Walter B. Jones Woodside Treatment Center-

provides inpatient treatment for adults needing inpatient substance use and/or mental health treatment services. WBJ Woodside Treatment Center provides crisis detox and crisis stabilization services for the Eastern region of North Carolina.

The Center also provides inpatient perinatal services for women from all 100 North Carolina counties in their 1st, 2nd, and 3rd trimester needing inpatient substance use and/or mental health.

Adults seeking services are:

- (1) Involuntarily admitted for inpatient treatment services;
- (2) Referred to WBJ Woodside Treatment Center for admission, based on a clinical assessment upon arrival at the Center; or
- (3) Walk-in to the Center for an assessment. All admissions are based on medical necessity (see admission criteria).

The WBJ Woodside Treatment Center is accredited by the Joint Commission as a Behavioral Health Care Facility. If adults who are referred for services or walk-in for an assessment are not admitted, they are provided with a referral to an appropriate level of care.
